

How to respond to unpredictable risks?

The next webinar of our series

13 October 2017 - 10:30 to 12:00 (CET time)

A Joint conference with AIG, ecoDa and FERMA

Crisis Solutions

13th October at 10.30 CET (The seventh webinar of our series)

The webinar is organized by AIG, the European Confederation of Directors' Associations (ecoDa), and the Federation of European Risk Management Associations (FERMA).

Keynote speakers:

Andrew Glazzard, Director, National Security and Resilience, RUSI

Gus Green, Head of Global Terrorism Risk Consulting, AIG

Scott Walker, Senior Managing Consultant, NYA International

What to expect from our panellists:

Andrew Glazzard, Director, National Security and Resilience, RUSI will discuss the range of terrorist threats, setting out potential trajectories for how those threats will develop, and how governments and security authorities are seeking to manage the threat. He will cover:

- The global threat from violent Islamist extremism, and how it is likely to develop once ISIL loses its sanctuaries in Syria and Iraq;
- How and why the threat from Islamist violent extremist groups varies between countries (including in Western Europe);
- The threat in Europe and North America from extreme right-wing groups and individuals, and how it relates to the violent Islamist threat (so-called 'reciprocal radicalisation');
- How authorities especially in the West are responding to these threats, and the implications for the overall management of risk from terrorism.

Gus Green, Head of Global Terrorism Risk Consulting, AIG will give a detailed overview of the Global Terrorism Threats with special emphasis on discussing current/emerging terrorist targeting trends, including vehicle ramming and active shooter/knife attacks. As well as addressing effective risk mitigations measures that clients can take to limit risk.

Scott Walker, Senior Managing Consultant at NYA, will provide practical advice to businesses gleaned from managing over 150 response cases over the past two years. Through three different, sanitised but real-life case studies, Scott will cover the following key themes:

- What is an appropriate response;
- What to expect during and, crucially, after a terrorist incident;
- What are the lessons learned from recent high-profile attacks?

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER

MODERATOR

Richard Hebblethwaite

Marketing Director

Richard Hebblethwaite is Marketing Director – Brand, Research & Thought Leadership in AIG’s Global Commercial Insurance Marketing team. Richard joined AIG in 1998 in AIG’s Corporate Research & Development unit, focusing on all forms of research across AIG’s life and general insurance businesses internationally. He managed the London office from 2005-2010 before moving to become Head of Marketing for the UK’s commercial insurance business. Since 2013 Richard has developed and matured AIG’s thought leadership offering in Europe and globally across the commercial insurance business. He also chairs AIG’s UK commercial product development committee. Prior to AIG, Richard was Associate Director at The Research Business International where he specialised in financial services qualitative research. Richard holds a Diploma in Marketing with the Chartered Institute of Marketing and a degree in Geography from the University of St. Andrews.

SPEAKERS

Andrew Glazzard
Director,
National Security
and Resilience, RUSI

Andrew Glazzard is Director of National Security and Resilience Studies at RUSI, a think-tank and research institute based in London. He is responsible for RUSI's work on security threats including terrorism/violent extremism, and serious and organized crime. He worked in the UK government for over twenty years. Before joining RUSI he worked in King's College London and Cambridge University. He has a PhD in English Literature from Royal Holloway, University of London. He is co-author of Conflict, Violent Extremism and Development: New Challenges, New Approaches (Palgrave Macmillan, 2017).

Col. Garry "Gus" Green,
USAF (Ret.)

Head of Global Terrorism
Risk Consulting

Col. Garry "Gus" Green, USAF (Ret.) has served as the Global CAT Terrorism Specialist for AIG's Global Property division since 2014. Prior to joining AIG, he served in the United States Air Force for 25 years. During this time he held numerous senior security leadership positions, including serving as the Senior Antiterrorism/Security Officer for both Air Force overseas commands USAF Europe/AF Africa and Pacific Air Forces and chaired the Executive Threat Working Group directly impacting Air Force operations in 140 countries. Prior to those positions, he held numerous other security/terrorism prevention assignments and has led/conducted antiterrorism vulnerability assessments for Department of Defense facilities all over the globe. Since joining AIG, he has developed comprehensive terrorism evaluation guidelines, trained field engineers to conduct detailed terrorist risk evaluations and when needed, works directly with the clients to identify risks and more importantly help develop comprehensive smart risk based solutions to counter the threat. In this capacity he has conducted several terrorism assessments for AIG clients all over the globe including, international airports, oil production facilities, sports stadiums, hotel/casinos, and several high profile clients in New York City's financial district Gus received a B.A. in History from California State University Long Beach. He also earned an M. S. in International Relations from Troy State University and an M.S. in Strategic Studies from Air University at Maxwell AFB in Alabama.

Scott Walker

Senior Managing Consultant

Scott Walker (Senior Managing Consultant), Part of NYA's response management team, Scott joined NYA following a 16-year career in the UK's Metropolitan Police primarily operating in a covert intelligence environment on terrorism and organised crime investigations. During this period, Scott also had responsibility for the management of high-risk areas of operational policing. Throughout his career Scott has worked overseas leading on a number of sensitive capacity building projects, liaising at the highest government levels throughout the Americas, Europe, the Middle East and Africa. Scott also worked with the UK armed forces on operational deployments to Afghanistan. Since joining NYA in 2015, Scott has case managed around 130 response cases.
